FINANCIAL SERVICES

Consistently ranked as one of the UK's top employment teams, Joelson regularly provides outstanding commercial advice to its national and international clients. The team has particular expertise in the financial services sector and frequently advises on both contentious and non-contentious matters. The team also has specialist knowledge in advising on employment law issues in connection with corporate transactions.

Why Joelson?

As specialists in the financial services sector we provide bespoke advice taking into account the commercial, regulatory and legal aspects of the industry. We have experience working on behalf of employers on a broad range of issues and our specialist advice extends beyond day-to-day employment law matters. We regularly advise on all aspects of employment law, including sector specific advice such as:

- executive remuneration/bonus issues
- restrictive covenants/post-termination restrictions
- exit negotiations

We can also provide tactical advice on litigious employment matters and regularly deliver practical, commercial solutions for our clients.

LOOKING FORWARD

“ Having worked very successfully with David and his employment team for many years I can confidently speak to their expertise in the financial services sector and to their commercial approach. I strongly recommend the Joelson employment team (and have done so) to other financial services employers in the sector. ”

John Renz, Group HR Director, Novæ PLC

Working With You

At Joelson the client comes first; we understand that no two businesses are the same, which is why we provide bespoke services and advice to assist with the implementation of effective HR policy with the aim of ensuring our clients' exposure to legal risk is minimised.

Time and time again our proactive advice and the implementation of effective policy has prevented our clients from being penalised, financially or otherwise.

Flexibility

Our team has the breadth of experience and in-depth knowledge to advise a wide range of employers in the financial services sector having previously acted for a number of leading companies. We anticipate our clients' needs and are proactive in providing advice tailored to meet specific requirements. Our services are competitively priced and we always aim to deliver within budget and on time.

“

We were delighted with the result. They were commercial, understood and didn't lose sight of what we wanted to achieve. At all times they were attentive and kept our management time involvement to a minimum, which was a blessing.

David Gibbs, Managing Director, Sunrise Brokers LLP
