FOOD AND DRINK

Consistently ranked as one of the UK's top employment teams, Joelson regularly provides outstanding commercial advice to its national and international clients. The team has particular expertise in the food and drink sector and frequently advises on both contentious and non-contentious matters. The team also has specialist knowledge in advising on employment law issues in connection with corporate transactions.

Why Joelson?

We have experience working on behalf of food and drink employers on a broad range of issues, our specialist advice extends beyond day-to-day employment law matters. We regularly advise on all aspects of employment law, including sector specific advice such as:

- recruitment and retention issues
- whistleblowing
- immigration and workforce planning

We can also provide advice and support on litigious employment matters and regularly deliver practical, commercial solutions for our clients.

“ A key partner in our business' success, we've been working with Joelson since our very beginnings. Smart, entrepreneurial and commercial – our favourite law firm.

Richard Reed, Co-Founder, Innocent

Working With You

At Joelson the client comes first; we understand that no two businesses are the same, which is why we provide bespoke services and advice to assist with the implementation of effective HR policy with the aim of ensuring our clients' exposure to legal risk is minimised.

Time and time again our proactive advice and the implementation of effective policy has prevented our clients from being penalised, financially or otherwise.

Flexibility

Our team has the breadth of experience and in-depth knowledge to advise a wide range of employers in the food and drink industry. We anticipate our clients' needs and tailor our advice to meet their specific requirements. Our services are competitively priced and we always aim to deliver within budget and on time.

“ The team at Joelson are entrepreneurial and focused on getting the right result for their clients. I would highly recommend them to any entrepreneur or business.
