EMPLOYMENT/HR SUPPORT FOR THE GAMING INDUSTRY

Consistently ranked as one of the UK's top employment teams, Joelson regularly provides outstanding commercial advice to its national and international clients. The team has particular expertise in the gaming sector and frequently advises on both contentious and non-contentious matters. The team also has specialist knowledge in advising on employment law issues in connection with corporate transactions.

Why Joelson?

We have experience working on behalf of employers in the gaming sector on a broad range of issues, our specialist advice extends beyond day-to-day employment law matters. We regularly advise on all aspects of employment law, including sector specific advice such as:

- incentive/benefit schemes
- intellectual property issues
- staff retention
- employee compliance with regulatory requirements

We can also provide tactical advice on litigious employment matters and regularly deliver practical, commercial solutions for our clients.

“Joelson fight your corner through thick and thin, do so proactively with effectiveness, and take bullets for you along the way. What else can a start-up wish for...”

George Georgiopoulos, Founder and Director

Working With You

At Joelson the client comes first; we understand that no two businesses are the same, which is why we provide bespoke services and advice to assist with the implementation of effective HR policy with the aim of ensuring our clients' exposure to legal risk is minimised. Time and time again our proactive advice and the implementation of effective policy has prevented our clients from being penalised, financially or otherwise.

Flexibility

Our team has the breadth of experience and in-depth knowledge to advise a wide range of employers in the gaming sector, from start-ups to large established businesses. We anticipate our clients' needs and provide advice tailored to meet their specific requirements. Our services are competitively priced and we always aim to deliver within budget and on time.

Our Team

The quality of our employment team has been recognised in The Legal 500, the leading independent guide to the UK's best law firms. The department is led by David Greenhalgh. David is listed in the Telegraph's Super Lawyers Guide and is a regular contributor to the Financial Times.
